ABOUT SHANGHAI MUCUN JINGLING GLASSWARE

As a professional manufacturer of scientific glassware, SHANGHAI MUCUN JINGLING GLASSWARE offers a broad line of laboratory glassware supplies for the scientific community. Our company is a Joint-Venture between Jingling Glassware (China) and Lab Depot (Japan). We combined the economic advantages of manufacturing in China with production techniques and Quality Control methods from Japan to produce inexpensive, high-quality glassware. Our laboratory glassware features low expansion rates, high hardness and high softening point, resists heating and boiling in laboratories, and is suitable for most standard experiment procedures.

Our manufacturing plant is equipped with modern equipment and tools to produce high quality laboratory products. Each item is crafted with precision, properly annealed, and passes through stringent Quality Control inspections before it is packed for shipment.

We sell high quality products at discount prices, resulting in considerable savings to the customers. Furthermore, we continuously strive to improve the quality and design to satisfy to the needs of our customers in the scientific and industrial communities.

SHANGHAI MUCUN JINGLING GLASSWARE believes that Enduring Pursuit of Excellence is a necessity and hence, it is a major driving force behind all of our business activities. With a committed and highly qualified workforce, we strive to achieve excellence in both manufacturing and customer service.
